Dear Friend of FSU:

Monday night your Seminoles were selected to play in the first annual Bluegrass Bowl in Louisville, Ky., on December 13. This is a fine tribute to your team which posted a 7-3 regular season record.

Selected by the National Collegiate Athletic Association as "Game of the Week," it will be televised nationally by ABC--a good break for Florida State public relations wise.

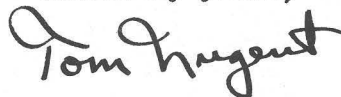

Our opponent is Oklahoma State, which lost a close one to Oklahoma last Saturday, 7-0, after playing them even for 55 minutes.

Florida State has 5,000 seats reserved and we want to fill them with an FSU Cheering Section that will be heard all over the nation. A ticket order blank is enclosed. If you can't get there for the game, buy a ticket and we'll give it to a student to cheer in your place.

Time is short but transportation companies are already arranging special trains and busses for the trip. Get your ticket order in immediately and plan to be there--in person or by proxy!

Your team will need plenty of vocal support in the stadium. We're counting on your help now as you have helped in the past.

Sincerely yours,

Head Football Coach

P.S.: Game time is 1:10 PM, Central Standard Time (2:10 PM EST), although the tickets are printed with a 1:30 kickoff time. The earlier time is necessary due to the nationwide telecast.
