Kidnaped Boy Is Found Slain in Mississippi

GREENWOOD, MISS., Aug. 31—(AP)—The weighted body of a 14-year-old Negro boy, kidnaped three days ago because he made "ugly remarks" to a white woman, was pulled from the Tallahatchie River Wednesday.

Emmitt Louis Till, Chicago boy visiting his uncle at nearby Money, died of a bullet wound above the right ear.

Sheriff George Smith, of Leflore County, said two white men, already charged with kidnaping, would be charged with murder. They are Roy Bryant, a Money storekeeper, and his half brother, J. W. Milam, of Glendora.

Sheriff Smith said Bryant admitted taking the boy from his uncle's home but said Till was released unharmed.

Till's mother, Mrs. Mamie Bradley, of Chicago, sobbed:

"Someone is going to pay for this. The entire State of Mississippi is going to pay for this.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said Till's death looks like a lynching and demanded vigorous prosecution.

Till was visiting his uncle, tenant farmer Mose Wright, when he was kidnaped Sunday morning. A deputy sheriff said Till "must have been killed Sunday, shortly after the kidnaping."

The youth allegedly made "ugly remarks" to Mrs. Bryant, the storekeeper's wife, last week.

A teen-aged boy fishing in the Tallahatchie spotted Till's body caught in a drift, his feet and legs above the water.
