

* While Young ASTLEY is amusing the Public at Westminster Bridge, the old veteran, his Father, is certainly at this moment embarked with his old regiment (15th Light Dragoons). The glorious victories obtained by that regiment at the battle of Emsdorf, are fresh in our memory; and we doubt not, should an opportunity again present itself, in French Flanders, or wherever else it may be ordered, but that every foldier to a man will signalize himself as on that great and memorable day.
