

Broaden your horizon, enrich your life.

Ye Wang

College: Education

Program: Sport Psychology

Degree: PhD

Why FSU?

FSU has an excellent sport psychology program.

What motivated you to pursue a graduate degree?

To be well prepared for my future career as a scholar who can conduct research in sport psychology and do applied work as a sports consultant.

Importance of your research and work

It is essential for us to pay attention to student-athletes' and professional athletes' practice, training, mental health, and so on. I hope my research can help athletes more enjoy practice, sports, and life.

Career aspirations

To be a scholar who can conduct research and do applied work in sport psychology.

Advice for anyone considering graduate school

The experience of graduate school broadened my horizons and enriched my life. I gained more knowledge of my major field. I was trained to be more professional in my major field. The study in graduate school brought my research ability into a higher new level.

Accomplishments during graduate career

I was awarded the Center for Global Engagement's Global Citizen Award during my graduate career.

